Excerpt: . . . the waters rise as the moon approaches the earth, and recede as she retires from it, may not this phenomenon arise from the pressure exerted on the aeriform matter above mentioned by the moon, on its approach to the earth, which pressure, at length reaching our atmosphere, presses on it also, and thereby on the waters of the ocean, causing them to rise and fall proportionably, and to occasion the Spring, Neap and daily Tides Should we not also have, by the same theory, a plain and simple way of accounting for the great principle of attraction in the heavenly bodies That, by a power similar to that which propels bodies forward on the earth, seas and atmosphere, namely, the wind; so the heavenly bodies are propelled from their right line, and driven round their central sun by this mighty current of aeriform gases in their courses towards the sun; (See Note 6th to the 2d Edition at the end of the Book-) I--Allowing the projectile force, (by which I understand Sir Isaac Newton to have meant the primary projectile force directly given to the heavenly bodies by their Creator) and the attractive force of the sun, to be the causes of the, nearly, circular motions of the planets, still it appears to me clear, that this projectile force must be something very different from the species of impelling force which Paley, in his Natural Theology, speaks of in page 390 of that work. It it...
